

SELECTED WORK

Light for residential interiors

A selection of ZeynLabs lighting designs and residential room concepts. A starting point for discussing how a custom light could fit your project.

A sculptural focus above the table

Overlapping rectangular elements give this pendant its layered silhouette. The dining-room concept places that form in a quiet setting, inviting a closer look at proportion, sightlines and its relationship to the table.

Archive photograph · 2016

Dining-room concept

A detail at the entrance

A curved shade carries a geometric motif that becomes visible through warm light. Placed beside an entry, the concept opens a conversation about atmosphere, wall placement and the details noticed at close range.

Archive photograph · 2021

Entry concept

Pattern beside a favourite chair

A toucan and tropical foliage emerge through the illuminated relief. This reading-corner concept explores the lamp as a decorative accent, bringing an expressive object into the familiar company of a chair, a book and a table.

Archive photograph · 2020

Reading-corner concept

Begin with one room

A first sculptural-pendant brief can stay focused: one room, the light's role, the desired scale and the surrounding finishes. Add the project budget and timing to decide together whether a custom direction is worth developing.

1 Room

2 Role of the light

3 Scale

4 Surrounding finishes

5 Budget

6 Timing

Let's talk about a real project

Would you have 20 minutes to discuss a recent or current residential project? Bring one room and the lighting choice that proved difficult. We can explore where a custom sculptural pendant might make sense.

hello@zeynlabs.com

zeynlabs.com